ingenhoven architects is one of the best architectural firms in Germany. This is the result of a survey carried out by the data company Statista for the German news magazine Focus. The list of the 280 top architects in 2017, published for the first time by Focus-Spezial in cooperation with the architecture magazine "Baumeister", is presented in the current November issue "Architekten" – the special includes a six-page interview with Christoph Ingenhoven. Under the title, "We Need a Mission Statement" Christoph Ingenhoven reflects on the role of architects in society.
